The Toynbee School processes personal data about its pupils and is a “data controller” in respect of this for the purposes of the Data Protection Act 1998. It processes this data to:

- support its pupils’ teaching and learning;
- monitor and report on their progress;
- provide appropriate pastoral care; and
- assess how well the school as a whole is doing.

This data includes contact details, national curriculum assessment results, attendance information, characteristics such as ethnic group, special educational needs and any relevant medical information.

This data may only be used or passed on for specific purposes allowed by law. From time to time the school is required to pass on some of this data to local authorities, the Department for Children, Schools and Families (DCSF), and to agencies that are prescribed by law, such as the qualifications and Curriculum Authority (QCA), Ofsted, the Learning and Skills Council (LSC), the Department of Health (DH), Primary Care Trusts (PCT). All these are data controllers in respect of the data they receive, and are subject to the same legal constraints in how they deal with the data.

Pupils, as data subjects, have certain rights under the Data Protection Act, including a general right to be given access to personal data held about them by any data controller. A parent at the Toynbee School would need to formally request data on behalf of their child in writing.

All matters relating to Data Protection are now subject to the overriding General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) Policy which came into effect from 25th May 2018

1. HOW TO ACCESS DATA

If a parent wishes to access their own personal data, or that of their child, then they will need to contact The Toynbee School in writing where a hard copy can be obtained from the School Office.

The parent’s attention is drawn to the Fair Processing/Privacy Notice, which gives supplementary information about the processing of pupil data by the organisations mentioned above, and which gives greater details of how the pupil data is processed, and the rights of parents and pupils. Either can be obtained through the School Office.

2. RECIPIENTS OF DATA

Personal data will not be disclosed to other third parties without the consent of the parent / legal guardian, unless obliged by law and unless it is in the best interest of the child. If the data subject is aged 16 or over they have permission to request access to their own records. Personal data will therefore be accessed and disclosed as follows:

a) Access:-

Restricted staff members of the school will access personal data on a need to know basis in the course of executing their duties. The professional staff requiring such data are fully aware of the obligations the school has under the Data Protection Act, and they will only use the data for the purposes for which it was collected.

b) Disclosure:-

The school endeavours to inform students and their parents/legal guardians when there is a possibility that personal data may be disclosed to third parties, and will ask for consent where applicable. However, there are instances where personal data will have to be disclosed without consent to the following third parties:

c) Education Division - to evaluate and develop education policies related to state schools, to enforce the Education Act where required, and to monitor the national educational system.

d) Other schools - where a student is transferred to another school, all academic records and other data related to the welfare and health of the student are forwarded to the other school, for continuation purposes.

e) Examination Authorities – to enable our students to sit examinations as part of the examinations process.

f) Health Authorities – to avoid contagious diseases or epidemics as obliged under health legislation in the interest of public health.

g) Hospitals / Clinics / other medical professional – where a student needs medical treatment due to illness or injuries suffered by him / her. Health inspections are also conducted as part of the health monitoring programme for school children.

h) Police – in cases of criminal investigations and in the interest of law and order.

i) Social workers / Support agencies – where the welfare of the student is not being maintained and in cases of child abuse.

j) Courts – as ordered.

3. RETENTION OF PERSONAL DATA

The school does not hold any data longer than necessary, having considered the purposes for processing.

In this regard, all personal data relating to students and their parents / legal guardian will be held for the period during which the student attends this school, with the exception of records selected to be kept for historic record purposes, and statistical data. Visual images not selected for historic record purposes will be kept for three years only.

Marks obtained by students in examinations are also kept for the duration of their attendance at this school, with the exception of results of the last scholastic year which are held for a period of five years only. It is therefore very important that all certificates, results and any other record indicating the educational progress of the student, is to be appropriately preserved by the parents / legal guardian for future use by the student.
